

FARMER MURDERED.

His Wife Shot and Beaten by Masked Burglars.

BLOODY DEED NEAR FREMONT.

Robbery Was the Motive For the Crime, but the Desperadoes Secured but Little Booty—Parsonage Robbed—Railroad Boycott in Court—Unknown Man Roasted to Death—Other Ohio State News.

FREMONT, O., Oct. 22.—Masked robbers entered the home of William Bitke, west of Fremont, Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock. They murdered Bitke and brutally attacked Mrs. Bitke. Afterward they ransacked the house.

Bitke was a German farmer and an oil producer. Generally he kept considerable money in his house, which was located on a lonely farm.

Two men in masks called at the farmhouse, and with drawn revolvers they demanded the money. Without giving Bitke time to obey the robbers opened fire. They shot him through the breast, killing him instantly.

Mrs. Bitke attempted to defend her husband, and she was shot in the right arm. When she tried to escape she was beaten on the head with revolvers in the hands of the robbers. She is now in a precarious condition.

The house was ransacked from top to bottom, but the robbers secured only an old silver watch, failing to find the hidden money. They made their escape.

Sheriff Slessman and the Fremont officers were not notified until yesterday, when a posse of men at once went to the vicinity and scoured the neighboring woods. Mrs. Bitke is unable to give an accurate description of the robbers.

Bitke received several hundred dollars Tuesday from the sale of oil, and the robbers evidently knew this.

WHO WAS HE?

Unknown Man Found in the Ohio River at Givens' Landing.

BUENA VISTA, O., Oct. 22.—An unknown floater went ashore at Givens' Landing two miles above here, and was buried by the township trustees. The man had apparently been in the water a long time and was badly decomposed. He was about 5 feet 9 inches in height, dark hair and heavy sandy mustache and weighed about 150 pounds.

He had on gray jeans clothing, cotton underwear and calico shirt, congress shoes (the right one missing). No papers were found in his pockets except a torn card that had been printed at Newport, Ky., and had the word "Portsmouth" written in pencil across one end. His purse contained $1.03. He also had a pocket knife and a pencil. No marks indicating violence were found, and it is thought he had accidentally fallen from some boat and was drowned.

ROBBED A PARSONAGE.

Not Securing Any Money the First Time He Returns a Second Time.

NEWTOWN, O., Oct. 22.—Thieves entered the M. E. church parsonage, occupied by Rev. Maddox, Monday afternoon while the family was absent and ransacked the house and took a key for an outside door.

As the church had just had their quarterly meeting and as they pay their minister then, the midday intruder was expected to return, and did last night by breaking a window which enabled him to unlock the door. After ransacking the house the second time he left, taking some of the family's best clothing and a lot of goods, etc., which had been purchased the day previous.

Railroad Boycott Restrained.

TOLEDO, Oct. 22.—On application of Clarence Brown of this city, attorney of the Clover Leaf railway, Judge Ricks, in the United States circuit court at Cleveland, has issued a restraining order, directed against the Lake Shore, Nickel Plate and Michigan Central, to restrain those roads from putting in force the boycott on passenger business, which is alleged by Receiver Pierce of the Clover Leaf. This will bring the matter of the legality of the Joint Traffic association before the United States court, and the result will be closely watched by all railroad men.

One Life Was Lost.

AKRON, O., Oct. 22.—An unknown man, 25 years old, was burned to death in an empty kiln in the fire which destroyed the Whitmore-Robinson company china works yesterday morning. He was literally baked. The man had applied for permission to sleep in the place shortly after dark. One of the employes showed him a warm place near one of the kilns. In the excitement of the fire the sleeping man was forgotten.

Crooks Captured.

RIPLEY, O., Oct. 22.—Dennis Long and Frank Dinkley, two crooks claiming to be from Cincinnati, were bound over to court in the sum of $300 for robbing P. Linn & Son's clothing store. Long engaged one of the proprietors in front of the store while Dinkley and a pal entered from the rear and carried away the contents of the money drawer.

A Boy's Damage Suit.

ELYRIA, O., Oct. 22.—Adolphus Sanders, a 12-year-old boy of Lorain, has brought suit against the Elyria and Lorain electric line, asking $5,000 damages on account of injuries received Sept. 6, 1895. He claims that the motorman knocked him off the platform of the car without asking him for his fare or without any cause whatever.

SOUTH AMERICAN UNION.

A Plan of Brazil's Minister of Foreign Affairs.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—The Herald's correspondent in Rio Janeiro telegraphs that the Brazilian foreign minister, Senor Cerqueira, strongly opposes a proposition now before the chamber of deputies to increase the duties upon all productions of the River Plate republics. The minister believes those republics would retaliate in kind.

The minister's plan is that a great South American union should be formed, comprising Brazil, Chili, Argentina and Uruguay.

ACCIDENT TO AN ACROBAT.

John Dunham Probably Fatally Injured by a Fall.

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—While the Dunham family was doing its aerial bar act at Barnum's circus, in the Coliseum, one of its members, John, met with an accident which is likely to prove fatal. Dropping from a bar 80 feet to a net below, his body turned too much and alighted almost full on the head.

The acrobat lay where he had fallen, and the attendants in the room near by picked him up, laid him in the sawdust and called for a physician. An examination showed that the spine of the acrobat had been severely injured. Although he retained consciousness, he was unable to move, and his lower limbs seemed paralyzed. A carriage was called and he was taken to the Chicago hospital, where the physicians regard his hopes of recovery as small.

John Dunham and the Dunham family have been well known to the public for many years. The aerial bar act, in which he was injured, has been regarded as one of great risk, but this is the first time in six years that any accident has resulted. The injured man is 25 years of age.

MAY SOON BE FREE AGAIN.

John Y. McKane to Be Pardoned From Sing-Sing Prison.

ALBANY, Oct. 22.—John Y. McKane, the former political boss of Gravesend, is, according to a statement which is regarded as authoritative, to be released from Sing-Sing before the expiration of Governor Morton's term of office and possibly within a few days.

McKane was sentenced to six years' imprisonment for aiding and abetting the commission of election frauds in November, 1893. Making the deduction for good behavior, McKane would still have one year and seven months to serve. Governor Morton is said to have expressed the opinion that McKane has been sufficiently punished.

HENRY TIBBE DEAD.

He Was the Inventor of the World-Famed Corncob Pipe.

WASHINGTON, Mo., Oct. 22.—Henry Tibbe, a wealthy citizen of this city, aged 77 years, is dead at his home of pneumonia. He was born at Enschede, Holland, and emigrated to this country in 1867. He was the inventor and patentee of the now world-famed "Missouri meerschaum" corncob pipe, manufactured in this city.

Mr. Tibbe began the manufacture of the pipes in 1878 with scarcely any capital, intending first to supply the local demand only, but the popularity of the pipe soon spread everywhere and now the company manufactures not less than 25,000 pipes per day.

Tragedy in a Police Court.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Oct. 22.—In the police court yesterday James Lowe shot and fatally wounded Addie Schilling and then blew his own brains out. The woman was reported to have been Lowe's mistress and was to have been a witness against him in a vagrancy case. Lowe was the son of State Senator Lowe of San Jose. When shot the Schilling woman had in her hand threatening letters written her by Lowe, who was suspected of arson.

Millions of Gallons of Water Let Loose.

OAKLAND, Cal., Oct. 22.—The big distributing reservoir of the Oakland Water company broke its walls and 2,000,000 gallons of water was let loose with a rush. A wall of water seven feet high tore down Oakland avenue, but beyond tearing up the streets in the vicinity no great damage was done. The officials of the water company contend that the water of the reservoir was blown up by dynamite by malicious persons.

Glass in the Mails.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—The universal postal union has announced that samples of articles composed of glass or other fragile material will be admitted hereafter to the mails between the German protectorates and other countries if packed so as to preclude the possibility of injury to employees or to correspondence. This privilege is not accorded to all countries.

Threatening Death to a Witness.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Oct. 22.—A threatening anonymous letter has been received by John E. Miles, the miller of this city, warning him not to appear as a witness on behalf of Mr. Goins, whose wife eloped with the former convict, Al Bowling. The letter is postmarked at Morehead, Ky. The writer says that Miles will be shot. Miles says he shall give his testimony.

Now Kneels Before His Master.

PEKIN, Oct. 22.—Li Hung Chang, special envoy of the emperor, has arrived here on his return from his tour of Europe, the United States and Canada.

KILLED BY A BOMB.

A Well Known Business Man Blown to Fragments.

THE AFFAIR IS A MYSTERY.

The Victim Was Popular With All the People Who Knew Him and Was Not Known to Have an Enemy—A Theory That the Bomb Was Intended For Another—No Clue to the Perpetrator.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Hamlin J. Andrus, secretary of the Arlington chemical works, located in Palisade avenue, Yonkers, was instantly killed yesterday by a dynamite bomb, which, the police think, was placed there for the purpose of destroying life and property. There is a deep air of mystery about the entire affair, and one particularly sensational rumor is afloat. The body of the victim was frightfully mangled by the explosion, and death must have come instantly.

Hamlin Andrus was a man of wealth and he lived in Yonkers in handsome style with his family. He left home in company with his son, Hiram, aged 20 years, a little before 8 o'clock yesterday morning, and they went to the factory together. As was his custom, the young man opened the safe and got out the books after which young Andrus went from the office into the factory. The office is a one-story structure and stands detached from the factory proper. The room used by Andrus in the office building was separated by a thin board partition from the part occupied by the clerks of the concern.

It was a few minutes after 8 o'clock when the explosion occurred. It shook the factory building, and was accompanied by the sound of crashing glass and a volume of smoke. A wild rush was made by the factory employees to the office. They were headed by young Andrus. He found the floor of that portion of the office building occupied by his father covered with glass, mortar and broken furniture. In one corner of the room he saw the bleeding and mangled body of his father, partly covered with the debris. It was in a terrible mangled condition.

Imbedded in the flesh of the dead man were found several pieces of cast iron. Other pieces, corresponding to these were found in the office. They were carefully placed together, and although all the pieces were not found, there was enough of them to show that the bomb, or machine, that exploded was a piece of cast iron pipe, about six inches in length by one and one-half inches in diameter. Fastened to either end of this piece of pipe was a cap, which was screwed on. The odor and smoke indicated that the explosive was either dynamite or giant powder.

So far no motive has been discovered for the murder. Mr. Andrus was popular with all in Yonkers and was essentially a home man.

Information of a startling character was received by the police which may aid in the solution of the mystery. It was to the effect that the bomb was intended for John F. Andrus, brother of the dead man, several times millionaire. John F. Andrus did not appear at the office of the chemical company yesterday morning as was his custom.

On learning of the explosion and the death of his brother he hurried to the police station and communicated with Captain Mangin. To the captain he said that the explosion of the bomb might have been the work of anarchists and offered an explanation for his belief. About three weeks ago, he said, he was walking along Wall street, New York, when he was accosted by a rather seedy looking individual who took him by the arm and said:

"Mr. Andrus, you are a very wealthy man. You have too much money and I am one of a number of people who believe that you ought to distribute at least one-third of what you have among the poor. You will either do this or there will be a way found of compelling you to do it."

Up to the present no arrests have been made. The police were informed that Hamlin Andrus was in the habit of experimenting with explosive chemicals and several tubes similar to that by which Andrus was killed were sent to the police captain by an unknown, who said he had made tubes of that nature for Mr. Andrus. The police are looking for that unknown. The story, however, is not believed by the dead man's relatives or friends, who declare that he had never engaged in such experiments or shown any interest in it.

The theory is that a bomb was placed in a box under Mr. Andrus' desk, and that it was exploded when he went there. No one was in his office so far as is known, but the cleaner, Tuesday, when everything was in order, and no one was supposed to have the keys to the building except three reliable persons, who apparently knew nothing about the explosion.

Mr. Andrus was a director of the Citizens' National bank of Yonkers and a member of the First Presbyterian church. He was a public spirited citizen and was always identified closely in all public matters that tended to the welfare of the people and the place. He was the son of a Methodist clergyman.

FIRED FOR HALF AN HOUR.

Battle Between Moonshiners and Deputy United States Marshals.

WHITESBURG, Ky., Oct. 22.—Advices from Upper Elk Horn creek, Pike county, near the Letcher county line, tell of a battle between four United States deputy marshals, headed by "Kid"

Greer, and moonshiners. When the officers were near the still camp, in the Cumberland mountains, they were fired upon by the "shiners."

The officers returned the fire and for half an hour the battle continued. John Young, a moonshiner, was mortally wounded, being pierced by three balls, and another "shiner," whose name can not be learned, was probably fatally wounded. The officers succeeded in cutting up and destroying four stills and capturing five moonshiners who were taken to Jackson for trial.

NO USE FOR THE BANCROFT.

Minister Terrell Has Not Asked For a Dispatch Boat at Constantinople.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 22.—Hon. A. W. Terrell, the United States minister to Turkey, has given to the Associated Press the first explicit and authorized statement from an official source regarding the mission of the United States steamship Bancroft in the Levant, directly refuting the wild and unfounded statements circulated in the United States and telegraphed here, that the Bancroft was instructed to proceed through the Dardanelles and to Constantinople in spite of whatever protest might be offered by the Turkish authorities.

When the attention of Mr. Terrell was called to this story he said with emphasis:

"The report that the Bancroft will, under instructions, force the Dardanelles is too ridiculous for serious notice. The fact of the matter is that I have not applied for the entry of a dispatch boat to Constantinople since February. So the statement that I have abandoned or withdrawn an application is entirely without foundation. I have not even mentioned the subject of a dispatch boat to the porte since February."

"The relations between Turkey and the United States are cordial. No American has been sacrificed during the massacres and it is improbable that the United States will depart from its traditional policy by meddling in the domestic affairs of Turkey."

ACTIVE GANG OF THIEVES.

Horses, Cattle and Chickens Stolen and Many Burglaries Committed.

KOKOMO, Ind., Oct. 22.—The worst gang of thieves that ever infested northern Indiana has been rounded up, and the whole crew is in jail. Two weeks ago Gus Freeman, the leader, was shot at the Flora fair, while robbing a farmer, and yesterday the gang, which scattered when Freeman was mortally wounded, was captured. They are Ida Clevenger, an 18-year-old girl, who divided honors with Gus Freeman in leading the outlawry; John Clevenger, "Buck" Gibbs, "Chick" Doll and Lee Bard.

The officer say they have in the past three years stolen more than 5,000 chickens, a number of horses and cattle, besides numerous burglaries of stores and residences, in this and adjoining counties. Freeman, who is 20 years old, and has served one term in prison, is still alive, but is given up to die by the county physicians.

One Hundred Discharges Found.

SCOTTSDALE, Ind., Oct. 22.—Captain S. H. Burnett of this city, while looking through some old papers of the late Colonel Samuel Crow, Twenty-second Indiana infantry, and who one time represented this county in the state senate, found over 100 discharges, belonging to veterans of several Indiana regiments. These discharges had been in the possession of Colonel Crow ever since the war, and the fact they were lost has been a great hindrance to the soldiers in procuring pensions.

A Handcuffed Murderer Escapes.

ENGLISH, Ind., Oct. 22.—William Graff, under indictment for murder, and whose case was continued here yesterday until the December term of court, escaped from the sheriff of Dubois county last night at Huntingburg, while en route to the jail at Jasper. The prisoner took advantage of the darkness and turned a corner, making his escape, although handcuffed. A reward of $500 has been offered for his recapture.

Steam Radiator Explodes.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Oct. 22.—A steam radiator exploded yesterday in the barber shop of Carney & Hinton, 130 Main street, severely scalding James Carney, one of the proprietors, and blowing the front of the building out into the street. An accumulation of mud in the pipes is assigned as the cause of the accident.

National Unions of Labor.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 22.—The executive committee of the Federation of Labor invited the railway brotherhoods to meet with the federation in Cincinnati, Dec. 14. National unions will be formed among engineers, butchers, core-workers and bicycle workers. The bakers' cracker label was endorsed.

Prospecting For Gold.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Oct. 22.—Within the past few weeks a number of miners from abroad have arrived here and are busy prospecting for gold in the mountains adjacent to this city. Rich finds are reported six miles northeast and the mining fever is becoming intense. The woods are full of prospectors.

Tragedy in Germany.

DRESDEN, Oct. 22.—A newspaper and magazine writer named Elenberg killed his wife, three children and himself at Blacewitz, near this city, yesterday by putting poison in their food. Elenberg had become despondent and desperate through his impoverishment and failure to obtain employment.

HORRORS OF HORRORS

Shocking Atrocities on the Philippine Islands.

EFFORT TO SUPPRESS THE REVOLT.

Spanish Soldiers Set an Example That the Natives See and Exceed in Cruelty—A Spanish Lieutenant, His Wife and Daughter Victims of Disgusting Vengeance—Efforts to Keep the Affair Secret.

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—A San Francisco special to a local paper says: Cuban atrocities are mild compared to those taking place in the Philippine islands, where the Spanish are trying to suppress a revolt of the natives. Some indication of affairs has been learned from oriental papers.

The most shocking incidents of the bloody reprisals was the treatment of a Spanish lieutenant and his family. The Spanish had captured a number of prisoners and as an object lesson to the natives disemboweled two and hung their bloody bodies on one of the gates of the town.

The infuriated rebels, eager for vengeance, gathered a force and hurried to the home of a Spanish lieutenant on the outskirts of Manila. They captured the officer, his wife and 12-year-old daughter and then began a bloody scene of torture. The most savage instincts of the natives were aroused. Before the eyes of his wife and daughter the lieutenant's skin was slit all over his body. Then the torturers crucified him, pinning him outstretched to a tree with their long knives.

They then turned to the woman and girl, giving the fullest play to their animal instincts and wreaking a disgusting vengeance before the dying eyes of the husband and father.

The Spanish are doing their best to keep the news of these atrocities from leaving the islands, opening all the mails. They particularly desired to keep unknown the death of 38 prisoners in one night in the "Black Hole."

COUNTERFEIT SHOVERS ARRESTED.

Brooklyn Streetcar Conductor Charged With a Grave Crime.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Three arrests, which supplement two recently made in Brooklyn of streetcar conductors accused of passing counterfeit money, have been made by the police of this city. The prisoners are: Henry T. Basford, 78 years of age, a boarding housekeeper, in whose place a complete set of counterfeiting implements and a large quantity of bogus coin were found; Edward Tompkins, sometimes a streetcar conductor and sometimes a private detective, and Michael Eagan, until recently a streetcar conductor.

On both of the two men last named was found bogus coin. Basford is said to have a bad record, reaching back many years. Tompkins is alleged to be the man who supplied the incriminated Brooklyn car conductors with "queer" money. Basford is held in default of $15,000 bail; Tompkins of $10,000 and Eagan of $7,500. Tompkins, having waived examination, is awaiting action by the grand jury. The other two will have a preliminary hearing before a United States commissioner.

ABSCONDING BANKER SUICIDES.

He Kills Himself With a Revolver in National Cemetery.

FREDERICKSBURG, Va., Oct. 22.—W. T. Rambusch, the absconding banker from Juneau, Wis., killed himself here Tuesday night. Rambusch came here a week ago and registered at the hotel as C. T. Anderson. He has been visiting the battlefields since. He shot himself in the National cemetery here.

The body was found in a sitting posture, the hand still grasping the pistol with which he had shot himself in the right temple. He left a note saying he wished to be buried among his comrades. One dollar was found on the body.

Several days ago Rambusch fled from Juneau, since which time every police chief in the country has been on the lookout for him. Chicago detectives had been at various points in search of the missing banker. He evidently realized that he was a hunted man.

COOS BAY DISASTER.

The Bodies of the Twelve Unfortunates May Never Be Recovered.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 22.—The number of people who lost their lives in the storm off the north jetty entrance to Coos bay has been variously estimated, but it seems clear that 14 persons in all were drowned, though the Oregon Coal and Navigation company's officers say they have record of only 12 deaths.

The Aragoa struck stern first, crushing a great hole in her plates. She listed heavily to, sank by the stern, touching bottom in five fathoms and leaving only her spars above water.

The sea was very rough, with heavy surf breaking on the beach, and it is said by men of experience that the bodies will never be recovered, as they would be buried in the sand.

His Life Extended.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Oct. 22.—Governor Altgeld has reprieved Daniel McCarthy, sentenced to be hanged at Chicago Friday, Oct. 23, until Friday, Feb. 13, 1897. Prosecuting Attorney Elliott of Chicago has placed before the governor a statement in which he states he has found new evidence in the case that he regards as vital to the same.

GREENUP Democrat: "Support LaRue Thomas. He believes a poor man is as good as a rich one, and will support such measures in Congress as will serve the common people."

"The enlargement of our currency by the silver bill undoubtedly gave an upward tendency to trade and had a marked effect upon prices, but this natural and desired effect of the silver legislation was by many erroneously attributed to the tariff act."—President Harrison's message to Congress, December 1st, 1890.

It would be a good idea for every Democratic club in the county to hold meetings before the election and appoint committees to look after matters on election day. You ought to have a good man for challenger, and good men to look after those who have no convenient way to get to the polls.

The Atlanta Constitution, after absorbing Bryan's two hundred and fifty speeches, breaks forth with the following gem:

So marvelous has been the witchery of his language and so profound the statesmanship which his speeches during the campaign have displayed, that divine inspiration is the only theory on which his success can be explained.

IS JUSTICE HARLAN AN ANARCHIST?

Justice Harlan, of the Supreme Court, is a Republican. When the court changed its mind, declared the income tax law unconstitutional and ruled that the rich should not be taxed in proportion to their wealth, Justice Harlan, in a dissenting opinion, scored them in the following emphatic terms:

"While I have no doubt that Congress will find some means of surmounting the present crisis, my fear is that in some moment of National peril this decision will rise up to frustrate its will and paralyze its arm. I hope it may not prove the first step toward the submergence of the liberties of the people in a sordid despotism of wealth. Believing, as I do, that the decision of the court in this case is fraught with immeasurable danger to the future of the country, and approaches the proportions of a national calamity, I feel it my duty to enter my protest against it."

Justice Harlan was only one of four Justices who dissented from the income tax decision. If the views of any one of them had been incorporated in the Chicago platform the organs of wealth would doubtless have clamored for President Cleveland to call out the troops and imprison the platform committee for sedition.

THREE YEARS AGO

Manley, the Big Maine Republican, Went on Record For a Double Standard.

DENVER, COLO., October 20.—The Rocky Mountain News prints correspondence between Hon. J. M. Downing, of Colorado, and Hon. J. Manley, of Maine, in July, 1893, to show that the latter gentleman was at that time opposed to the single gold standard. Mr. Manley in his letter to Hon. J. M. Downing, among other things said:

"Our people must be educated on this question and we must, as a matter of right and policy, establish our own financial policy, and force the great nations of the world to a double standard. The day of the single standard, either of gold or silver, is a thing of the past."

Little Edith was playing in the yard. Suddenly she ran into the house. "Oh, mamma," said she, "I saw a great long snake in the yard." "How long?" exclaimed mamma. "A foot long?" "Oh, longer than that. It was a leg long!"—Yonth's Companion.

The Discovery Saved His Life.

Mr. G. Caillouette, druggist, Beaversville, Ill., says: "To Dr. King's New Discovery I owe my life. Was taken with La Grippe and tried all the physicians for miles about, but of no avail and was given up and told I could not live. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in my store I sent for a bottle and began its use and from the first dose began to get better, and after using three bottles was up and about again. It is worth its weight in gold. We won't keep store or house without it." Get a free trial at J. James Wood's drug store.

WORKINGMEN.

Knights of Labor Journal Appeals to Toilers to Throw Off Their Chains.

"Cast Your Ballots According to Your Conscience, and Secure Reforms That Insure Freedom."

WASHINGTON, D. C., October 20.—The Journal of the Knights of Labor, a newspaper devoted to the interest of labor, will print the following in its issue of Thursday next, under the head, "To the Toilers, Not the Trists:"

"He that bringeth not up his son to a trade maketh him a thief."—Hebrew Proverb.

"You are already loaded with chains; will you rivet them upon labor forever by casting heaven's most precious gift to man—the ballot—for Hanna's hireling, trusts' tutelard, William McKinley?"

"The laws that oppress you will alone be changed when honest men with sympathetic hearts are placed in power. Can you hope to find such among the hirelings of Wall street?"

"You are entitled to equality with the highest in the land before the law. Strive for it! Be content with nothing less! The ballot is the freeman's weapon; employ it!"

"A law is to be construed and enforced according to the intent of the legislator; this is the very essence of justice—all else is tyranny. Have the laws been thus construed and enforced?"

"Two notable instances will answer the question."

"The anti-trust law was passed upon the most solemn assurances by its promoters that it contained no concealed snares to involve struggling industry, but embraced only antidotes to the poisons of autocratic trusts that threatened the very life of the nation. Yet, under its improvident provisions arrests and imprisonments were made solely of industrious citizens, and that by the assumption of powers and the issuance of processes theretofore unknown, by inferior courts, and in a form so ingenious that the cruelties practiced thereunder were not cognizable by the Supreme Court of the United States. Through the deceptive meshes of this law the guilty trust passes unscathed; innocent industry is entangled and alone suffers."

"For another object lesson turn to the prisoners who have languished for months—years (men of good repute, the bread winners of families)—in the common jail of Los Angeles County, California. They had not consciously committed any crime, they had injured no one in his person, they had injured no corporation in its property; they had tendered themselves and associates to carry promptly and faithfully the mails of the United States to their destination. So declares the record of their case."

"But industrious research discovered in the voluminous statutes of the United States a seeming power to raise an offense from a simple misdemeanor, incurring a fine not exceeding $100, into the rank of crimes involving a grievous punishment of both fine and imprisonment. A strange anomaly—a cruel device—by which the actual commission of an offense by one person is a misdemeanor; the mere attempt to commit the same offense by two or more persons, a felony. The element of conspiracy can not justify this solecism, because the State within whose jurisdiction the offense is committed can alone vindicate the injury to the public."

"Wage earners, respect yourselves! Assert your manhood! Regard your true interests: consult your conscience in casting your ballots."

"You forge your own chains by voting for those who will hereafter, as heretofore, deny you equality before the law."

"Remember labor is all powerful if united. Paralyze the arms of labor and the world would starve in a twelvemonth."

"Labor has always fought the battles of freedom. All great reforms must originate below. Luxurious wealth is contented and slothful, whether in a despotism or republic. You have nothing to hope from it."

"Insist courageously upon your own rights; do not seek to deprive others of theirs."

"In the ensuing Presidential campaign let your motto be: 'Free silver, free ballot, free men,' and the victory of right over wrong, of freedom over oppression, is assured."

"If William Jennings Bryan be elected President in November the trust will receive a mortal blow, and the toiler may stand erect, as becomes an American sovereign."

"We conclude in the heart-coined words of John G. Carlisle, uttered before he became a follower of gold's false gods: 'This contest must not cease, and will not cease, until the industrial classes are fully and finally emancipated from the heartless domination of syndicates, stock exchanges and combinations of money grabbers in this country and in Europe.'"

PITHY POLITICAL POINTS.

Bryan and the People Against McKinley, the Millionaires and the Money Power.

Mr. McKinley is in the hands of as unscrupulous a gang as it is possible to muster.

Mr. Bryan is a man of the people and for the people, while McKinley belongs to the money power and is controlled by it.

The people will not trust any man with the Presidency who has no word of condemnation for trusts, monopolies and such like.

The Palmer and Buckner crowd no more stand for the Democratic party nor represent Democratic principles than does the McKinley-Hanna gang.

The Democratic party stands to-day, as of old, the advocate of the people, while the Republican party stands alone for the millionaires and monopolies.

This was intended to be a government of the people, for the people and by the people, and whenever it comes short of this it ceases to be a republican government.

Republican institutions were never in so great peril at the hands of the army of Northern Virginia as they are at the army of Shylocks, monopolies, trusts and millionaires now menacing them.

The very essence of the gold movement means centralization of power; a principle that Democrats have ever contended against and one that is utterly at variance with our republican form of government.

The people should be the first consideration at the hands of a Presidential aspirant, just as they are with Mr. Bryan. The millionaires can manage to take care of themselves.

It wasn't Northern hordes that humbled the power of mighty Rome and caused her to fall from her pinnacle of greatness, but corruption and greed of gold among her own citizens wrought her decay and final ruin.

If there's a man in Mason County that has money enough to entitle him to a place along with the millionaires and money kings, who are controlling the present financial policy of the country, so detrimental to the interests of all but themselves, we don't know his name.

Why is it that one man is old and decrepid at 45, and another hale and hearty at 80? It depends on the care he takes of himself. Often a man's body gets out of repair—the trouble grows until it lays him out in bed. Whenever a man feels that he is not well as he ought to be, whenever he is listless, without energy and without vitality, whenever he finds that he is losing weight and that his ordinary work gives him undue fatigue, he needs Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. If he keeps on working with his liver inactive and his blood impure—he keeps his nerves and body under a constant nervous strain. He will not be hearty when he is old. The "Golden Medical Discovery" cures many so-called diseases because nearly all illness springs from the same thing—bad digestion and consequent impure blood. The "Discovery" makes the appetite good, the digestion strong, assimilation easy, and the blood rich and pure.

"The west can nominate and elect the next president, or the majority of congress. The financial question will never be settled until it is settled right, and it will not be settled right until it is placed upon a bimetallic basis and a ratio of 16 to 1. It is the money of the country, and it was the money of the country during the period of its greatest prosperity. Let us have a president who is not controlled by eastern influences. The people will rule this country in 1897. The combined rule of Cleveland, the New York bankers, and the free traders has been more disastrous to this country and has cost the country more than did the civil war."—J. S. Clarkson, Republican national committeeman, in a speech at Denver Jan. 10, 1895.

RECORD BREAKER.

The Opera House Far Too Small to Accommodate the Crowd Last Night.

An Ovation to the Charming Miss Margaret Ingles—Bronston Scores Carlisle, Lindsay and Breckinridge.

The meeting last night was a record breaker.

The crowd that greeted Miss Ingles and Col. Bronston at the opera house was not only the largest, but most representative in-door gathering witnessed here during the campaign.

All parties and all factions were represented, and the ladies turned out in large numbers to greet the fair advocate of Bryan and free silver.

The house was packed and jammed. Every seat was taken before 7 o'clock. Most of the scenery was then removed and several hundred people, principally ladies, were accommodated on the stage. Many were turned away unable to find even standing room in the eager throng that crowded about the doors.

Miss Ingles certainly has cause to feel proud over the reception accorded her. She received an ovation. For nearly an hour she spoke on the great issues of the campaign, and had the closest attention throughout. That the audience was with her was attested by the applause that greeted her at frequent intervals. That she proved herself a strong advocate for Bryan and the people's cause, is admitted on most every hand. She possesses beauty as well as talent, and is a most pleasing speaker; simple, unaffected and her well-modulated voice was heard distinctly in all parts of the hall. She brought her entertaining talk to a close as Col. Bronston appeared on the stage.

Col. Bronston was received with cheers. He was very hoarse and very tired, having spoken at some point in Scott County during the afternoon, then driven twenty-five miles to catch the train, reaching here at 8:30 o'clock. He has spoken in many sections of Kentucky, and told the crowd that he was confident the State was safe for Bryan.

He then reviewed the history leading up to the demonetization of silver and told how the bondholders and money power had manipulated legislation in their interest. He then paid his respects to Secretary Carlisle, Senator Lindsay, the Courier-Journal and Col. Breckinridge, quoting from speeches by the first two denouncing the crime of '73. He characterized Judge Lindsay as the "big fat baby Senator," Carlisle as "the boss traitor of them all." He said Breckinridge had caused his audience at the Indianapolis convention to shed tears as he pleaded with them to make a new home where the erring Democrats would find shelter after November 3rd, and now the Colonel had actually abandoned the new home and had crawled under the Republican log cabin. Mr. Bronston's ridicule of these boltocrats was greeted with laughter and applause. He closed with an appeal to the Democrats of Mason to roll up an old time majority for Bryan and Thomas.

Hon. W. A. Byron, of Brooksville, and Mr. Wm. B. Ogden, of Milford, will speak at Germantown next Saturday afternoon, beginning at 1 o'clock. Members of all parties are invited and a special invitation is extended to all free silver clubs of Mason and Bracken to turn out. Mr. Byron and Mr. Ogden are two of Bracken's ablest and most eloquent sons, and will no doubt be greeted by the largest crowd seen at Germantown during the present campaign.

Mr. C. D. Newell and others will speak at Dieterich's Park next Monday night at 7:30 o'clock.

Messrs. C. D. Newell and C. Burgess Taylor will speak at Mayslick Friday night, October 23rd, at 7 o'clock.

Messrs. L. W. Galbraith, Frank P. O'Donnell and John L. Chamberlain will speak at Dover next Saturday night at 7 o'clock.

Hon. Wm. G. Ramsay, Democratic nominee for district elector, will speak at Lewisburg Saturday night, October 24th, at 7 o'clock.

WILLIAM WILLIAMS is having his trial at Portsmouth on a charge of stealing a horse and wagon from a farmer over in Brown County last May. He took the outfit to Portsmouth and sold it.

THE comparative statement of gross earnings of the Louisville and Nashville Road for the second week of October, as compiled by Cushman Quarrier, shows the earnings to have been $440,525, against $438,725, being an increase of $1,800. For the two weeks of October the figures are $873,525, against $875,000.

THE Republicans in the Eleventh district are in hot water. The district has heretofore been Republican, but John D. White, Republican, has announced himself as an independent candidate. Hon. R. A. Burnam, candidate for Judge of the Court of Appeals, is said to be backing White. Burnam does not like Colson, the Republican nominee.

MR. Sterling Advocate: "Hon. W. LaRue Thomas, Democratic nominee for Congress in the Ninth district, is making a thorough campaign. There is little doubt of the election of Thomas. There is not a purer or better man in the State, and if elected he will be an honor to the district and will always be found on duty, working and voting for the people's interests."

THE report has been industriously circulated that Colonel R. W. Nelson, of Newport, would not support the Democratic ticket. He said to an Enquirer reporter Tuesday: "I wish you would state that I am enthusiastically for Bryan and Sewall. I would rather lose an arm than to vote for McKinley, and yet I would rather vote for McKinley than Pa'mer. I have no regard for the bolters' ticket whatever. There can be no possible doubt of Kentucky going for Bryan by a large majority. The Republicans are simply wild when they claim that they have any chance of carrying the State."

Something to Know.

It may be worth something to know that the very best medicine for restoring the tired-out nervous system to a healthy vigor is Electric Bitters. This medicine is purely vegetable, acts by giving tone to the nerve centers in the stomach, gently stimulates the liver and kidneys and aids these organs in throwing off impurities in the blood. Electric Bitters improves the appetite, aids digestion, and is pronounced by those who have tried it as the very best blood purifier and nerve tonic. Try it. Sold for 50c. or $1 per bottle at J. J. Wood's drug store.

THOMAS AND PUGH.

At No Stage of the Game Was the Lewis County Man in It.

[Catlettsburg Democrat.]

Easy?
Dead easy!
Thomas is "some punkins."

Oh, what a frost for the Republican.

The court house was filled to overflowing Monday afternoon, with both country and city people, all anxious to hear the last joint debate of the series between Hon. W. LaRue Thomas and Hon. Sam J. Pugh, Democratic and Republican nominees for Congress in this district.

It is entirely unnecessary to go into detail, for anyone who was there, irrespective of party, knows that Pugh had no more show than a rabbit. In the fin de siecle vernacular, what Thomas "done to him was a plenty."

Pugh seems to be retrograding instead of advancing in his ability as a public speaker. He could not open his mouth in a pleasing fashion, and when it was open he failed to say anything.

Mr. Thomas opened the debate with a stirring one-hour's speech in which he clearly defined his and his party's position on the financial question, as well as giving a most clear resume of what free and unlimited coinage of silver means. He was cheered long and loud.

Mr. Pugh followed with one and one-fourth hours, and if he said anything in that time worthy of mention we failed to hear it. He eulogized himself on what he had endeavored to do while a member of the State Legislature, but was very careful not to tell what he had done for the people since being elected to Congress.

Mr. Thomas closed with a talk of 15 minutes' duration which contained more sound sense and solid facts and argument than did the entire speech of Mr. Pugh.

The crowd grew enthusiastic and the court room rang with cheers from horny-handed sons of toil—gray-haired farmers whose eyes sparkled with joy and hearts beat with gladness when they heard their ideal Congressman pour forth the words of truth and hope. Mr. Thomas predicted his own election by a handsome majority, as well as that of William Jennings Bryan, our grand and noble leader. Everything points in that direction. Stand shoulder to shoulder, fellow Democrats, and when the enemy makes its charge on the 3rd day of next November, they will be met by such an unwavering, unswerving line of true and tried patriots that the opposing ranks will break, falter and fall back in ignominious defeat, justly rebuked for their un-American course. We're sure to win.

All honor to Bryan, Thomas, silver and the common people.

Won't Vote For Breckinridge.

Carlisle Mercury: "A friend who spent last Sunday among Republican friends in Bourbon tells us that Mr. Breckinridge is making a mistake when he expects the self respecting Republicans to support him. Said one Republican: 'Why should we be called upon to surrender every conviction of principle to elect a moral leper to Congress, and vindicate a man who was rejected by his own party.'"

Stole a March on Their Friends.

Mr. Greely Holliday and Miss Florence Pollock went to Huntington Tuesday where they were united in marriage. They returned home yesterday afternoon. The groom was formerly a motorman on the electric railroad, but is now traveling salesman for a wholesale liquor house of Cincinnati. The bride is a niece of Mrs. Thomas Winter.

INDICTMENTS

Demand by a Lima Judge For Attempts at Coercion.

LIMA, OHIO, October 19.—This morning when the Common Pleas Court convened Judge J. E. Richie created a sensation by calling the attention of the grand jury in his charge to the reports of coercion, and told the jury it was its duty to investigate all charges of that kind brought to its attention, and to return indictments against any one, to whatever political party he might belong, if there was evidence showing attempts of that kind have been made by employers or their agents. In the light of recent reports regarding coercion of employees by the railroads here the charge is of more than usual interest.

MRS. JUDGE COONS.

Death of This Estimable Woman After a Lingering Illness—The Funeral Arrangements.

Brief mention was made yesterday of the death of Mrs. Judge W. P. Coons. She had been ill for some time with Bright's disease, and her condition had been critical for a week or more. Her death occurred yesterday morning at 7:15 o'clock at the home of the family in Frankfort.

Mrs. Coons was a daughter of the late Watson Diltz, of Augusta, the family being one of the most prominent in this section of Kentucky. She was a woman of lovely christian character, and her many friends here and elsewhere learned with sincere regret and sorrow the sad news of her death. Her husband and three daughters survive.

The remains will be brought here on the L. and N. train to-night, and taken to the residence of Mrs. Elizabeth Johnson, of West Fourth street, where the funeral will occur to-morrow morning at 11 o'clock. Burial in the Maysville Cemetery.

SPECIAL REGISTRATION.

Next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday the Days Fixed By Law.

Have all of you registered? If not, you have three days more in which you can do so, provided you were sick or absent from the city on the regular registration day.

Special days of supplementary registration, as set apart by law, are Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday preceding election day—October 26th, 27th and 28th. Be sure to attend to this matter. If not registered you can not vote.
